FIRE AGAIN HALTS WORK OF RESCUE IN THE MINE

SECOND GALLERY IS FILLED WITH DEBRIS THAT WILL TAKE TIME TO CLEAR.

THE MINE IS STILL ON FIRE

Feel Confident That Some More Men Are Alive in the Third Level of the Mine Even Yet.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 23.—All hopes of bringing more men alive out of the awful blackness of the St. Paul mine today was abandoned when a severe cave-in of earth came in the second gallery, completely blocking the work of the rescuers.

It was to the east, where the earth has fallen, that the men on Sunday were sure they heard signs of life from men behind the earth which had fallen previously, and all the energy of the rescue force have been directed in this direction since.

It will take several days to clear away this latest obstruction and even if the men are still alive today the chances are most slim that they will be able to hold out for a day or two more after the experience they have been through.

Some of the bodies brought up late yesterday showed signs of life having departed, but a few hours when they were discovered, and much complaint is heard that the rescue party were not pushed ahead on Saturday in this direction in hopes of saving more lives.

It is an open secret that the officers in charge of the mine and the mine officials have had several severe clashes over the delays that seem to hinder the work of rescue in the mine and that the officers have conferred with the Governor on the situation.

Flames have again broken out in the third vein and the firemen on duty spent the remainder of the night in fighting to subdue the flames, so that the work of the rescue party would not be hindered today. Despite this the fire raged headway and more caves are anticipated.

Since the rescue on Saturday the mine owners of the rescue party are confident that there are living men in the third vein, but the company's officials do not share their opinion. Work, however, is being directed to the investigation of this vein as fast as possible.

The first miner, brought up Saturday, was David Hoffmeyer, who died today of general exhaustion. He was one of the men in the worst condition when discovered and was thought nearly dead when brought from the mine Saturday. The other men appear to be recovering.

As a result of today's cave-in and the delay which follows the work of rescue, it was officially announced at the United Mine Workers' headquarters that an appeal will be made directly to Governor Denison for some decided change in the handling of the rescue workers.

BELOIT WOMAN READ PAPER AT MEETING

Mrs. C. C. Keeler Gave Talk Before
Descendants of Pilgrims at Milwaukee Yesterday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Beloit, Wis., Nov. 23.—At a meeting of the descendants of the pilgrims who came over in the Mayflower, at Milwaukee yesterday, a paper written by Mrs. C. C. Keeler of this city was read. So many of the descendants of the pioneers of this country live around Beloit that there is a great deal of interest in this Mayflower gathering.

$100,000 Paid to Men.

It happened that the semi-monthly pay days of the Pathe-Morse company, the Berlin Works and the Thompson company came yesterday. As a result one hundred thousand dollars was last night paid out to Beloit shop people. Many of the checks the men received the merchants have had to cash. This has resulted in a movement to ask the banks to keep open on pay night.

Will Ebert, a fireman employed by the telephone company, fell from a tree and broke his wrist.

CHICAGO MAN IS NAMED IN CASE

W. J. Moxley, Who is Being Voted For for Congress

GRAHAM CASE IS CONTINUED

Facts Brought Out Show That Young Man Under Arrest Here May Be Part of Big Gang of Swindlers.

One of the interesting phases of the case in which a young man named Graham is being held for violating the United States laws relative to the sale of oleo calling it creamery butter, was the fact that the oleo sold was manufactured by the W. J. Moxley Company of Chicago. Mr. Moxley is today being voted for as the republican nominee for congress from the sixth Illinois district located in Chicago. The case was continued until next Tuesday.

The case was called at 11 o'clock this morning in Court Commissioner B. D. Tallman's office but on account of the non-arrival of the United States revenue officers and with the consent of Attorney H. S. Sloan of Milwaukee, who is acting for Graham, nothing was done except to take the testimony of A. C. Thorpe, clerk of the municipal court, after which the hearing was adjourned until one o'clock. The testimony of the clerk was simply for the purpose of identifying Graham as the one who pleaded guilty to a charge of selling renovated butter as creamery butter on Nov. 5.

When asked on what grounds Graham would fight arrest, Attorney Sloan stated that he would ask that the case be discharged on the grounds that the United States court has no jurisdiction in the matter as Graham had already been convicted and fined for the same offense by the state and that the present proceedings had placed him in jeopardy twice for the same offense.

Assistant United States District Attorney H. H. Morgan, when asked how the government would proceed, said that the case was analogous to the "blind pig" cases which have been tried so frequently of late and that he would attempt to convict Graham of committing two offenses by the same act. "Although the defendant has been convicted and punished for one crime under the state law," he continued, "he is still liable for his crime under the United States laws."

Some more interesting facts regarding the case of Graham, it is claimed, were brought to light. Some time ago a clever band of swindlers in Madison netted a number of crooks in the northern part of the state out of thousands of dollars. The authorities, however, broke up their game and one of the offenders, who gave his name as A. L. Davis, was arrested, but his two confederates escaped. In connection with the Graham case, as has been given before, two others were jailed in Milwaukee, and these men gave their names as J. D. Davis alias Thomas E. Lewis. The similarity of the names, as well as the fact that they were also engaged in the butter game, has led the authorities to think that the two in Milwaukee are the men who escaped from the case.

However, this has not been proven and may be nothing but a theory.

BERLIN POLICE ON WATCH FOR CRIMINAL

Clever Swindler Has Been Securing Large Sums Of Money From Wealthy People.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Berlin, Nov. 23.—The police authorities of Berlin have requested the authorities of London, Paris and other large cities in Europe to be on the lookout for a clever and extremely dangerous swindler of many aliases. Three years ago the man was arrested in Hamburg for swindling an American heiress to whom he was engaged. He pretended, in that instance, to be the son of Count Hunkel von Donnersmarck. He could not prove his claim at the trial, however, and was sentenced to two years imprisonment. Since his release, he has swindled a number of wealthy families in Berlin and other large cities in Germany. He passed as "Professor of Zoology," gained entrance to the most exclusive circles and, after becoming acquainted to some wealthy girl, succeeded in obtaining large sums of money by fraudulent representations. The swindler is about 35 years old and apparently a man of good education and gentlemanly manners.

Question—"Who by?"

Answer—"Moxley & Co."

Question—"What are Moxley's initials?"

Answer—"W. J."

Question—"When were they shipped from Chicago?"

Answer—"In October."

Attorney Sloan demanded that the inspector be compelled to answer all questions or his entire testimony be stricken out. "We are not here," he said, "to protect reputations—even if the maker of this butter is a candidate for congress and will support Joe Cannon."

Attorney Sloan moved that the case be dismissed as no evidence had been introduced to show that a crime had been committed; or to connect the defendant with such a crime.

Judge Tallman refused to dismiss the case and the examination will be resumed next Tuesday. There will also be an examination at Milwaukee on Friday of the men arrested there.

SWEETHEART JILTED HIM; HE TOOK ACID

Sheboygan Young Man, Despondent
Over Love Affairs, Swallowed Bottle of Carbolic Acid.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Sheboygan, Wis., Nov. 23.—Louis Lampe, 26 years old, well known here, committed suicide Monday by drinking the contents of a 15-ounce bottle of carbolic acid, which had been kept in the house for medicine. He left nothing to show his reason for committing the rash act, but it is believed that his falling health, together with the fact that he had quarreled with a Sheboygan Falls girl, with whom he had been going which made him despondent, led him to commit the deed.

He had not been working, and was at home as usual. His mother and sister went out for a call a few doors away from the home, and a few minutes later his sister, Anna, returned finding him on the floor, dead, the bottle by his side.

The coroner was called but no inquest will be held. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Extra Precautions Necessary To Protect Rafael Painting
in Bologna.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Rome, Nov. 23.—It is reported from Bologna that the famous painting of St. Cecilia by Rafael, in the Pinacoteca of that city has just been placed in a heavy frame and chained to a ring in the wall. The director of the gallery, when asked for the reason of this unusual precaution, pointed to the fact that a certain artist had been working on a copy of the painting, almost daily, for forty years and had succeeded in making so perfect a copy, showing even the defects caused by the drying and cracking of the paint and varnish, that even an expert could not tell the copy from the original. Under those circumstances he considered it merely a wise precaution to take some heroic measures to insure the safety of the original canvas.

CONGRESSMAN DIED IN RUINS OF HOME

David A. Deamond Victim of Fire
In His Home at Butler, Missouri.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23.—Congressman David A. Deamond and his grandson, "Waldo," were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the congressman's home at Butler, Mo., early this morning. The cause of the fire is not known. Mrs. Deamond and other occupants of the house who slept on the first floor, escaped. The two victims occupied a room on the second floor. Mrs. Deamond had a very narrow escape, and when she reached the yard the entire building was a mass of flames.

Mrs. Clark believes her father sacrificed his life in an effort to save his grandson. She thinks the congressman was anxious in time to save him, but in attempting to carry the boy from danger he became confused by the smoke and was overcome before he was able to find his way out.

The bodies of Deamond and his grandson were found in the ruins this afternoon, lying side by side. Deamond was evidently carrying his grandson when death overtook him.

PLACE PIERCE ON TRIAL NEXT WEEK

PRESIDENT OF TEXAS OIL COM-PANY CHARGED WITH PERJURY
A LONG FIGHT NECESSARY

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

As Magnate Has Tried Every Means Possible To Escape Impending Trial.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Austin, Texas, Nov. 23.—Henry Clay Pierce, millionaire and former head of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, will be placed on trial here next week on a charge of perjury in swearing that his company had no connection with the Standard Oil Company and had not entered into a conspiracy with that company in restraint of trade. District Attorney James R. Milton announced today the completion of all arrangements for the trial, and it is not believed the state will consent to any further delay in the case. The district attorney will be assisted in the prosecution by Judge W. F. McLean of Fort Worth, whom Gov. Campbell has named as special counsel in the case.

The fight of Henry Clay Pierce to escape trial has been the most notable legal contest of its kind in the court annals of America. It is now just three years since the oil magnate was indicted by the grand jury of Travis County, Texas, on a charge of false swearing, following a suit brought by the state against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company. Mr. Pierce was located in New York the next spring by a Texas sheriff, but fought extradition in the Federal Court in New York on the ground that the prosecution of Pierce in Texas was not in good faith, but that Pierce had been indicted for an ulterior purpose, and if he were taken to Texas this would develop.

Judge Pratt, who would develop, introduced as evidence a Supreme Court opinion that the Federal courts may take judicial notice of the laws of all states; the Texas antitrust law of 1899; and parts of the Texas criminal code covering perjury and false swearing.

Later Pierce made an application for a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Adams in the United States Circuit Court of St. Louis. Judge Adams denied the application and the case was appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States, which on June 1 last affirmed the decision of the United States Circuit Court, holding Pierce subject to extradition to Texas.

The testimony on which the indictment of Pierce was based was given in St. Louis in the proceedings brought by Attorney General Hadley of Missouri in 1906 in the action brought by the state of Missouri to drive the Standard Oil Company from that Commonwealth. At that hearing Mr. Pierce testified that he had been president of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company since 1873, and that up to the time when the company was reorganized and practical control of it passed to the Standard Oil Company the company made a profit of from 600 to 700 per cent a year. It did a large business in Texas. An experienced

Anti-Cigarette Law Effective.
The effect of the new Canadian law
on cigarette smoking by boys is shown in the trade returns. Although 370,000,000 cigarettes were smoked in Canada since the first of the year,
most of them being made in the Dominion, the number shows a decline of 30,000,000 on the figures for the preceding 12 months. The results are more striking when it is remembered that the law was in force for only eight months of the year. It forbids the sale or gift of cigarettes or cigarette material to boys of 16 or less under penalties of from $10 to $100.

ARGUMENTS OVER PRIVATE SEWER

ENLIVENED SESSION OF COMMON COUNCIL.

STREETS AND BOND ISSUES

Required Considerable Attention at Hands of City Fathers—John Comstock Elected Constable.

There was a lively discussion at the common council meeting last evening
over the question of the city's taking over the private sewer in the First ward, which was supposedly settled in the affirmative at the previous session.
It ended with Mayor Carle's declaring
the proposed measure which provoked the debate out of order by reason of the fact that there would be no money
in the general fund to meet its provisions. The measure was introduced by Ald. Buchholz and directed the city clerk to draw on the treasurer in favor of S. B. Heddles, C. H. Evans, C. W. Duley, Edward Amerpohl, I. N.
Mead, James Shearer, Dr. E. E.
Leonard, W. H. Hazen, Dr. C. C. Doy-eroux, and George F. Crouse in the sum of $353.70, payable from the general fund in full settlement for a private sewer owned jointly by the aforesaid parties, with the proviso that whenever in connection with the said sewer is made by anyone, the amount paid for such privilege (equal to an assessment of 40 cents per foot of lot frontage) shall revert to the general fund, this arrangement to continue until the whole sum has been repaid
and assessments collected thereafter
to go to the proper district fund.

"I don't believe it's fair for these gentlemen to make a collection agency
of the common council," expostulated Ald. Brown. "It is conceded that the property is a storm sewer and property is a ward charge. The original resolution calling for the construction of a sewer system in the city of Janesville provided that the municipality be divided into districts and all the work, with the exception of the main outlet, charged to the proper district.
The various sections have gone ahead and paid for their piping. Why, then,
should the cost of this particular sewer be saddled upon the entire city?" In conclusion the speaker called for an opinion from the city attorney on the legality of the proposed move.

City Attorney Maxfield said that he saw no legal barrier in the way. Ald.
Buchholz declared that the plan was simply to borrow the money from the general fund and pay it back. Ald.
Kimbald was inclined to regard the prospect of the general fund's being completely reimbursed as somewhat dubious, unless every lot owner was taxed whether he made connection or not. City Clerk Roy Cummings called attention to the fact that if the council passed the measure it would have to borrow more money for the general fund in order to meet the obligation
as there would be calls for all of the $2,000 loan already arranged for.
Then and thereupon the honor declared the measure out of order.

Matters of Finance.
The finance committee's reports on bills and the salary list were adopted and orders were passed directing the mayor to borrow $2,000 and place the same to the credit of the general fund; $1,000 and place the amount to the credit of the fire and water fund;
and $1,000 to draw on the treasurer in the sum of $449.73, payable with the exception of $7.34
chargeable to the Third ward fund,
from the general fund to Claude E.
Cochrane for installing water, gas,
and sewer service pipes on South
Main, Racine, North High, Madison,
and Washington streets. In instances where property-owners had failed to have them put in after being advised to do so by the common council, and it was further ordained that the aforesaid amount be charged in the 1909
tax roll against the various parcels of real estate. Tom Murty was allowed $2.50 for nine loads of fertilizer placed on the city parks. On recommendation of the committee on sewers
the clerk was directed to draw on the treasurer in the sum of $150 payable to the First National bank, assignee
of the People's Construction company, for recent work completed on the main outlet and charge the same to the special fund.

Highways.
Statements and schedules of assessments for improvements on North High and Madison streets which property owners had elected either to pay at once or hereafter, concerned by the proper committee, were submitted and approved, and to raise the amounts necessary. In the instances of those who had not elected to pay, the mayor and clerk were directed to lease five special North High street improvement bonds, drawing interest at six per cent, and of the aggregate value of $143.10; likewise five similar Madison street bonds of the aggregate face value of $215.77. The bonds will be sold to the highest bidder and the premium credited to the property against which they are issued. Chairman Sheridan of the highway committee also submitted the street assessment committee's report
of the cost of improving Racine street, from South Main to Logan street. This report showed that the actual cost of the improvement was $5,398.22, including $118.50 due inspector E. S.
Taylor for thirty-nine and one-half days of service at $3 per diem, and that the indebtedness to Contractor
P. W. Ryan amounted to $4,085.02.
The clerk was directed to publish in the official newspaper a notice of the issue of special Racine street improvement bonds. Street Commissioner Watson's report on new walks built during the past season was accepted
and the clerk was directed to charge
the costs, plus interest, to property owners, in the tax roll. Direction was given to the city engineer to prepare plans for a storm sewer on Sharon street.

Miscellaneous Business.
A petition from Harry Schmuller
for permission to erect a small fireproof building in the rear of his interest on West Milwaukee street was granted.
The Janesville Electric company was directed to change the lamp at the intersection of Prairie and Danton avenues to a 50 candle-power "Edison"
and place another 50 candle-power at two intersection of Glen and Hickory streets. Further time was granted the lighting committee for the consideration of a petition from S. H.

Phelps and thirteen others for a lamp at the corner of Sharon and Logan streets.

The judiciary committee was granted further time for the consideration of a notice of injury filed by Mary Enright and the clerk was directed to draw on the treasurer for $35.50, payable to Peter Johnson in full settlement of claims for damages.

New Constable Elected.
Confirmation of the appointment of Simon Dorn as patrolman was deferred until such time as official notice should be filed by the fire and police commission.

Mayor Carle's appointment of J. H.
Crow as special police officer, from
Nov. 13 to Dec. 2, to fill the vacancy caused by the vacation of Officer Sam
P. Brown, was approved.

John Comstock was elected as constable of the Second ward to fill the unexpired term of Willie Watts, resigned.

Chief Appleby's report for October showed 107 arrests. One was for violation of the statutes, 2 for assault and battery, 1 for burglary, and 103 for drunkenness. Fifty-eight were taken to court and 49 discharged.

The arrests were credited to officers
as follows: Appleby 19, Brown 7, Fanning 10, Morrissey 7, Champion 2,
Mason 14, Sam Brown 22, Bonello 4,
and Palmer 2.

Aldermen Clark and Richardson
were absent from the session.

TALK OF FORMING A BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Beloit, Rockford, Edgerton, Monroe, Madison and Janesville to be in the Circuit.

Manager James Connors is considering a proposition to form a basketball league composed of teams from Beloit, Rockford, Edgerton, Monroe, Madison
and Janesville. The interest in this particular form of sport has grown within the past few years and with many men who know the game thoroughly living in Janesville, an excellent team could be organized. In former years roller polo held sway but of late years this game has fallen into disrepute and the owners of roller rink are anxious to find something to take its place. The floor at the local rink would be large enough for good games and would need but little alteration to put them into excellent shape
for the game and still not in any way affect the skating.

NINETIETH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED TODAY

Mrs. E. I. Robertson Celebrates Anniversary of Her Birth in Fitting Manner.

Mrs. E. I. Robertson, almost young at ninety, this afternoon received congratulations from her many friends at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. E.
Mallock, 208 South Main street, and with her were her five daughters—Mrs.
M. N. Howe of St. Charles, Minn.;
Mrs. W. F. Bedbury of Mountain Home, Idaho; Mrs. Elizabeth Beach of Berkeley, Calif.; and Mrs. E. E. Mal-lock of this city. The first four journeyed halfway across the continent for the express purpose of being with their mother on her ninetieth birthday.

Although far beyond the proscribed
limit of three scores and ten years,
Mrs. Robertson is still active enough to shame many women younger than
she. She was born at Liberty, N. Y., Nov. 23, 1810, and came west to Illinois fifty seven years ago. Twenty-three years ago her husband died and since then Mrs. Robertson has resided with her daughter. In spite of her advanced age Mrs. Robertson has made two trips to California during the past ten years. The coming of her four daughters was planned as a surprise, but to make the occasion
a memorable one Mrs. Robertson held a reception to her friends from two to four this afternoon.

MISS NELLIE LOVELAND WAS THE GUEST OF HONOR

Linen Shower Given in Her Honor by Miss Blanche Winter Last Evening.

Miss Blanche Winter of 509 North Bluff street was hostess at a delightful linen shower given in honor of Miss Nellie Loveland, who tomorrow will be united in marriage to Mr. Willam Shook, in Madison. Miss Loveland received many handsome and useful presents in linen and a delicious
supper was served during the evening.
Some fifteen friends of Miss Loveland participated in the event.

CAREFUL DOCTOR.

Prescribed Change of Food Instead of Drugs.

It takes considerable courage for a doctor to deliberately prescribe only food for a despairing patient, instead of resorting to the usual list of medicines.

There are some truly scientific physicians among the present generation who recognize and treat conditions as they are and should be treated regardless of the value of their pockets.
Here's an instance:

"Four years ago I was taken with severe gastritis and nothing would stay on my stomach, so that I was on the verge of starvation.

"I heard of a doctor who had a summer cottage near me—a specialist from N. Y., and as a last hope, sent for him.

"After he examined me carefully
he advised me to try a small quantity of Grape-Nuts at first, then as my stomach became stronger to eat more.
"I kept at it and gradually got so I could eat and digest three tablespoonsful. Then I began to have color in my face, memory became clear, when before everything seemed a blank. My thinks began to wander and I could walk, but I suddenly recovered.

"Now after a year on Grape-Nuts
I weigh 153 lbs. My people were surprised at the way I grew fleshy and strong on this food."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

PLANS FOR BUILDING TO BE TALKED OVER

Special Committee of the Eagles Will Prepare Their Report to the Lodge.

There is to be a meeting of the special committee appointed by the Janesville Aerie of Eagles, to formulate some plan of building a suitable clubhouse for the order, this evening.
It is understood that the committee has under consideration property on South Main and on West Milwaukee streets, having secured an option
on several desirable pieces. A large building, which would be suitable for their use, after being remodeled, is also said to have been offered at a very reasonable figure.

The plan is outlined as for a stock company to be formed, under the authority of the aerie, but separate from
it, to incorporate and sell stock in the company at so much per share.
This will be independent of the aerie
and the stock will be offered on the open market with a guarantee of a fixed rate of interest. This company will then either buy or build a suitable structure and rent the club rooms and lodge rooms to the aerie.

The lower floor could be rented as stores, the front rooms upstairs as offices and the basement for a Turkish bathroom or bowling alleys. It is believed that such a building would pay good dividends in Janesville if located in the proper place.

NAMED FIRST VIOLIN IN UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA

Maurice Deane McKinney Wins Signal Honors in Music at State University.

Maurice Deane McKinney, a graduate of the high school with the class of last June and a son of Reverend John McKinney of Christ church, has just been selected as first violin in the university orchestra after a most severe test. Young Mr. McKinney has rare musical ability and the honor of making the Varsity orchestra, particularly the place of first violin, in his freshman year, speaks well for his work.

BODY OF VERNIE MERRILL WAS TAKEN TO EVANSVILLE

Remains Shipped This Morning to Cut-Off City for Interment

On account of the inclement weather of yesterday it was found impossible to take the body of Vernie Merrill to Evansville overland, so the casket was left in the Presbyterian church all night and this morning

THE LATE VERNIE MERRILL

shipped over the North-Western road.
Interment was made in the Evansville cemetery. A number of the relatives and intimate friends accompanied the remains to their final resting place.

FIRST DRAFT WILL BE SENT WEDNESDAY

Cherry, Illinois Mine Sufferers Will Receive Installment From Janesville Tomorrow.

While there are many who have signified their intention of adding to the Gazette fund for the Cherry, Illinois sufferers, it has been thought best to keep the list open for other subscribers some days longer. It is now planned by the Red Cross society, who will handle the Gazette fund, that a permanent fund be established to care for the widows and orphans of the men who lost their lives, through the coming years. The money subscribed in Janesville will be sent to the Red Cross society for distribution and will be used, probably to increase this fund. The list will remain open for several days longer so that all who wish to do so may add their gift to the fund.

Tips for Walters.
In Berlin the Walters' association
is considering the plan of making tips obligatory and according to a fixed table, in the cheaper places they propose that the customer shall pay to the waiter 12 per cent. of the amount of his bill and in the large establishments the attentive "wel-ner" will be satisfied with eight per cent.

Three Stores, Clothing and Shoes, On the Bridge

CHRISTMAS STAMPS WILL BE ON SALE

Advance Order of Ten Thousand Expected Within Day or Two—Crusade to Start.

Janesville will play its part in the great Christmas Stamp crusade of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association. The Gazette has placed an advance order of ten thousand stamps and will follow it up with other orders as fast as they are needed. These stamps will be placed in all the stores in the city, where they can be purchased for a cent each, and the money thus raised will be forwarded to Milwaukee headquarters of the association for use in stamping out the white plague in Wisconsin. Officially the campaign opens on Monday morning next.

"Stamp out the white plague," will be the cry of the crusaders as they march the length and breadth of the state to sell 2,000,000 of the little holiday greeting stickers at a penny each to raise funds for the anti-tuberculosis battle so auspiciously begun during 1900.

By midnight of Dec. 31, New Year's eve, the entire 2,000,000 stamps must be sold. Wisconsin will then maintain its rank as one of the leading fighters in the world-wide crusade against tuberculosis. The people must not let it fall.

The Wisconsin Christmas stamp, a true emblem of the Hudson state, will be on sale in every city, village, and hamlet in Wisconsin on Monday morning. Five thousand earnest workers will be actively engaged to push the sale under the direction of Stanley A. Douglas, campaign manager, 411 Goldsmith building, Milwaukee. Every one is giving the best effort unselfishly, sacrificing money and time in the good work. Every teacher and every pupil in the schools will be hard at work. Superintendent of Schools H. C. Howell is interested in the campaign and promises to bring it to the attention of the pupils of the city schools. When it is considered that all cities of 2,000 and over are eligible to compete for the big prize of an Aero vacuum cleaning system, valued at between $700 and $1,000, donated by the American Air Cleaning Co. of Milwaukee, the city selling the largest number of stamps in proportion to its population in the 1900 census will be adjudged winner. The winning city's campaign committee will select the school in which the Aero system is to be installed, with the advice of an expert engineer from the American Air Cleaning Co.

The company has also donated an Aero system to be awarded to the school in Milwaukee which sells the most stamps in proportion to the average attendance.

It is also interesting to note what Archbishop Messner of the Diocese of Milwaukee writes of the crusade: "Mr. Stanley A. Douglas, Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Assn., Dear Sir:

"I am in full sympathy with the Anti-Tuberculosis campaign and have no objection at all in having the children of our Catholic parochial schools lend their help in this useful work. In fact, I shall be glad to know that they will take part in selling the Christmas stamps by which some revenue is to be collected for the promotion of the campaign."

"Very sincerely yours,
"S. G. MESSNER."

PALATIAL DINING CAR MADE ITS APPEARANCE
Janesville Had First Opportunity to See One of the Fireproof All-Steel Cars.

One of the new and luxurious dining cars of the C. & N. W. Ry. has been installed between Chicago and this city on train 505 and 506, arriving here at 9:20 in the evening and leaving at six o'clock in the morning. The new car is one of the 125 all-steel fire-proof cars ordered by the road for passenger service and is a model of luxury and safety. It is constructed entirely of steel, is five feet longer than the present dining cars, and is capable of seating thirty-six, which is six more than the old diners accommodate. In addition to remodeling the coaches to make them safer in cases of collision, the interior arrangements have been so modified as to do away with the odor of cooking almost entirely.

A JANSVILLE COUPLE MARRIED IN ROCKFORD

Rudolph H. Noble, aged thirty, and Mrs. Mary B. Noble, aged twenty-nine, were married in Rockford yesterday afternoon by Judge Rockbow.

OBITUARY.

MRS. O. H. FETHERS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Chosen Head of the Society of the Mayflower Descendants in Wisconsin.

The ninth annual meeting and dinner of the Society of the Mayflower Descendants was held in the Athenaeum in Milwaukee last night. The president of the other patriotic orders of the city were present as guests, together with Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, national president of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who made a short address.

The report of Mrs. Kelsor of Beloit, who attended the national congress in Plymouth, Mass., was read by Mrs. E. P. Vilas, secretary of the society.

Mrs. Ogdon H. Fethers of Janesville presided and was elected president to succeed Mrs. James Sydney Peck, who died recently. Resolutions of respect to the memory of Mrs. Peck were adopted.

The officers chosen besides Mrs. Fethers were: Deputy governor, Geo. H. Noyes; secretary, Mrs. E. P. Vilas; treasurer, Mrs. Edmund C. Gray; historian, Miss Mary L. Atwood; captain, Thomas L. Kennan; surgeon, Dr. G. A. Harlow; members of the board of assistants, Mrs. Horace A. J. Upham, Mrs. George E. Kelsor of Beloit, Mrs. Edward Fuller, Madison; Mrs. W. B. Why, Miss Mary L. Peterson, Fred M. Strong and J. W. P. Lombard. A large number of guests were present and a musical program was given by Miss Harriet Hunsd after the dinner.

Among the presidents of other patriotic societies present were: President of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Thomas W. Spencer; president of the Daughters of 1812, Mrs. Charles Catlin; president of the Sons of America, Gardner P. Steiner; state regent of the Children of the American Revolution, Mrs. A. J. Elmer; president of the Children of the American Revolution, Mrs. Guy C. Lindow.

SCHOOL TEACHERS OF OLD DOMINION IN RICHMOND
Annual Educational Conference Being Held At Capital—Large Attendance Expected.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 23.—Richmond is thronged with teachers, school trustees and others interested in educational work, who have come to attend the annual Virginia Educational Conference. The indications are that by tomorrow morning there will be at least 2,000 visiting educators in the city. During the three days of the conference the State Teachers' association will hold morning and evening sessions. Sectional meetings of supervisors, principals and teachers in various branches of study are to be held each afternoon.

The names of many leading educators are found on the program which is one of unusual interest. Foremost among the scheduled speakers are Senator Goro of Oklahoma, Governor Swann of Virginia, President Dabney of the University of Cincinnati, Prof. J. S. Wilson of the College of William and Mary, and Joseph D. Eggleston, Jr., State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

CURRENT ITEMS.

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wrecked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate examinations and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free.

All correspondence held as strictly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Great Family Doctor Book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—1000 pages, answers in plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. Sent free, in plain wrapper in any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, or in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

NO OCCASION FOR SPASMS

No much graft and crookedness is being unearthed in the New York custom house, of late, and the American Sugar Refining company is so much in the limelight as an offender, that many people seem impressed with the notion that they have met with personal loss at the hands of this great corporation. To correct false impressions, along this line, the Wall Street Journal has this to say concerning import duties on sugar:

"In the natural public resentment which has been aroused against frauds on the customs there is no occasion why the American people should be driven to hysteria, or should play into the hands of agitators who are always seeking to magnify the wrong-doings of the large industrial combinations. If our people are to continue to plunge themselves upon their superior conservatism of judgment and sobriety of action over the Latin peoples, they must at least look at facts in their proper perspective.

"So far as losses in the treasury are involved by recent disclosures at the custom house, they have been admitted by the American Sugar Refining company upon the advice of their own counsel, by the payment into the treasury of the entire amount demanded by Special Attorney Stinson for duties on importations between 1894 and 1908. The amount paid was $2,000,000, in addition to $124,000 in penalties.

"This is an infinitesimal proportion of the duties paid by the American Sugar Refining company to the government during the period involved. The sugar importers have been for many years among the largest contributors to the revenue of the government. The average customs duties collected on sugar for the ten years ending on June 30, 1908, were about $27,000,000 annually. This was almost exactly one-fifth of the total customs revenue for the year 1908, and an even larger proportion of the revenue in several prior years.

"Of the total of about $560,000,000 in duties collected on sugar during these ten years, the treasury books show that nearly $300,000,000 was paid by the American Sugar Refining Co. This does not necessarily fix the ratio of production of the refining company to total production, since the company undoubtedly handles much of the domestic product, which is equal to about one-third of the sugar imported.

"It appears that the refundations made by Special Attorney Stinson represent, therefore, considerably less than one per cent of the amount paid by the American Sugar Refining Co. in duties to the treasury. If the additional duties claimed between 1894 and 1901 were added, the total would be about $5,000,000, or about one per cent of total duties paid by the American Sugar Refining Co."

In spite of the fact that sugar pays so heavily in taxes, it is a credit to the men who control the market that prices have been kept at about five cents per pound for a decade or more.

THE SITUATION

"Financial problems are working their way out through a series of conflicting influences. The general undertone in trade, industry and finance is one of confidence. Business continues large in volume, and the belief in continued activity is universal. Labor is well employed, and there would be little reason for hesitancy were it not for the phenomenally high level of prices whether of merchandise or securities.

"Complaints of the high cost of living are universal. There is good reason for many of these complaints, but the fact is they are frequently being made the most of as an excuse for advances in wages. A far more potent element in the increased cost of living than is readily admitted is the extravagance which has become a national characteristic and weakness.

"This tendency towards extravagance is more evident even in the home than in business or in public affairs, and its effects in the long run cannot but be injurious. Many totally unnecessary amusements and luxuries are now indulged in which were never thought of ten years ago, and the result must be a greatly diminished national saving power, out of which should come the new supplies of capital.

"As to what will check this upward trend in values nobody can forecast. Production has not yet outrun consumption. Combinations of all kinds are restricting competition and putting up prices. Inflation and speculation are adding fuel to the fire, and at present there is nothing in sight to check the advance except exhaustion of the purchasing power of the consumer. That, too, is not in the immediate future."

This from a New York financial letter sizes up the situation correctly. Business is good, but the complaint of high prices is general, and the high cost of living is a matter of free discussion.

It might be well to note that manufacturers of automobiles are preparing to supply the American demand for 200,000 cars in 1910, which at a low selling valuation represents $200,000,000.

This is only one of many luxuries which are now considered necessities and which contribute so largely to the increased cost of living.

In good times money comes easy and goes just as easy. A billion-dollar congress is no longer startling and extravagant waste in state affairs excites no comment.

This same spirit of liberal spending possesses the masses, but with the wage scales now in force it is just as easy to economize and save money as it ever has been.

Many people have never discovered the art of saving. It is often said of such people, "They are just as well off on a thousand a year as they would be with twice that amount," for every dollar would go in other event.

These are the people who complain the most bitterly of hard times and the high price of living. The country has passed through several epidemics of reform. If reformers will take a year off and devote their energies to teaching the doctrine of thrift and economy, results would be more profitable than representative government "as she is taught today."

The revolt against La Follette is being organized by men who were his infatuated admirers and staunch supporters, a few years ago. They have seen a vision and are now consumed with wonder at their stupidity. The hypnotic influence of the great reformer no longer enthalls them. Just what the outcome of the scrap will be is difficult to determine, but it is worth something to know that light has dawned on a deluded constituency.

The sale of Christmas stamps for the anti-tuberculosis campaign will commence next Monday. Every store in the town will be supplied and attractive advertising cards will be furnished. Janesville should enter the contest for the vacuum cleaning machine offered by a Milwaukee firm. All stamps sold in the city will apply. The machine is valued at $1,000 and is well worth winning.

Coxey of "Coxey army" fame is now engaged in running an arsenic mine. When congress was in extra session he appeared before the committee and asked for an increase in tariff rates to protect his infant industry. The same Coxey who marched on Washington a few years ago with an army of tramps. "The world do move."

Dryan will attempt to unite the democratic and prohibition parties in 1912, and lead the combination to victory. If the union can be perfected most any kind of a leader could win, for the opposition would be so dazed with astonishment, that it would be paralyzed and harmless.

PRESS COMMENT.

Here is Wisdom.

The Plainfield Sun never said a truer word than when it announces: "Yes, it's true that advertising costs money, but it's cheaper than going out of business."

Football is Over.

The Monasha Record says that it is now up and tuck between the shooters and the football crowd as to the greatest number of accidents. At the present writing the shooters are in the lead.

Not in Janesville.

While the Marinette Eagle-Star announces that the state railroad commission has ordered the Madison Street Car company to immediately heat its street cars, the public utilities laws provide for every contingency in the regulation of the public service corporations. Meanwhile the patrons of the Janesville cars freeze and bump along just as usual.

Gilbert's Chances.

The Green Bay Gazette says that Attorney General Gilbert announces that he will run for congress against Congressman Nelson and on the growingly likely. In the meantime Nelson has lost the opportunity of running a census director because of the alleged fact that he opposed Cannon.

It begins to look as though an ironclad definition of progressive were needed before the campaign is allowed to proceed further.

Good Roads Pay, Certainly.

The Wisconsin Record-Herald advocates good roads and says that some day we shall understand the enormous waste there is in bad roads and for purely business reasons shall take up the matter in thorough earnest. Here and there states have been making attempts at betterment and have succeeded passably well, and yet when we compare the best of our highways with those of France or Germany or England we are bound to confess that we are novices.

Heard's Doctrine.

Up at Fond du Lac the Commonwealth says that the report of Miss Ruby M. Acker, county superintendent of schools, made to the county board Wednesday night, in which she recommended that greater attention be given to reading, spelling and kindred elementary subjects in the rural schools, will strike a sympathetic chord in the breasts of a good many people who are interested in the cause of education. Miss Acker recognizes the value that lies in the modern methods of teaching, but at the same time seems to realize that some of the really good things of the old system should be made use of in these latter days if the best results are to be obtained.

Brought Up Short.

The Appleton Post puts it neatly when it says: "One of the local ministers of La Crosse having revealed the secret a short time ago that every man in La Crosse has an 'affinity,' that town has been properly brought to its senses, and is going to work with it to accomplish a moral revolution within its boundaries. The latest phase of it is the undertaking of a crusade against the holding of the annual charity ball for the benefit of the poor patients at the La Crosse hospital, which is being promoted for the alleged reason that the dances are highly immoral, consisting entirely of two-steps and waltzes. Having sound ed the depths of infamy La Crosse now purposes evidently to go as far to the other extreme."

Indeed They Are.

The Milwaukee Free Press announces that James J. Hill says we are living too high. Many persons believe it is the prices and not the food that is too high.

Easier for Deaux.

The Milwaukee Sentinel suggests that now the girls are advised to study the heads of deaux, in order to pick the right one. That's better than pocketbooks.

Not Good Dope.

The Madison Journal does not agree with Ellis B. Usher who says there is danger of our millionaires being driven out of Wisconsin through overtaxation. Well, they can pay their fare out; it's the fellows that can't raise money to pull out of a miserable situation that deserve sympathy.

Uncle Walt
THE POET PHILOSOPHER
BY WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George M. Shaw Adams.)

When I was young and fresh and ruddy, and full of snap and vim, my parents used to make me study until my head would ache with KNOWLEDGE I sat upon the school-house benches, with pencil, book and slate, while sundry bald and weary teachers drilled knowledge through my pate. For some quick method I was yearning, some easy path to tread; "there is no royal road to learning," the bald old teachers said; "stick closely to the printed pages, all illnesses eschew, and then perhaps, in future years, you'll know a thing or two." And when I left the school and college, to climb life's tortuous hill, I found my little store of knowledge would barely fill the bill. But nowadays the world moves quicker than in the long ago; old-fashioned methods make us snicker, they were so crude and slow, my sending seven wooden dollars to Messrs. Frocks and Franks, they'll make our children blush scholars, and do it in three weeks. So let us close the schools and leave our sons to roam and decay, and take the books and maps and leave 'em a million miles away; for now the kids take credulity in three-grain capsule form; the teacher loses the position that he so long kept warm.

Doesn't Improve with Age.

IS MARRIAGE A LOTTERY?
Yes, marriage is a lottery.
In the drawing are both prizes and blanks.
Everything in mortal life is more or less uncertain, and the uncertainty of marriage makes it a game in which there is hazard.
However—
There is this difference between a lottery and the marriage venture—the lottery has only a few prizes and many blanks; marriage has some blanks, but many prizes.
Perhaps marriage would better be compared to the irrigation land drawings now so common in the west.
Where the land is nearly all level and the water supply sure one tract of land is about as good as another. Only a comparatively few are undesirable.
And so—
One may, even with the best precaution, sometimes draw an undesirable unit in the matrimonial lottery. No one can predict the future.
The marriage game would be less of a gamble were there less deception before marriage.
Possibly it is true that in most cases young men and women do not deliberately set out to deceive each other during the days of courtship, but it often amounts to that.
Each "puts the best foot forward"—the best side out. So that there is more or less a veil between the two—sometimes a veil of romance or illusion, sometimes a veil that is deliberately drawn.
Is it any wonder under such conditions that somebody draws the booby prize?
Perhaps the young people think they know each other when they are absolutely ignorant of each other's temperament, habits and characteristics.
The man is lured by an attractive figure or pretty face; the girl takes the man absolutely on faith. Is it strange that only by a lucky chance such a marriage should turn out well?
Young man, young woman—
Build your future happiness on nothing less than absolute personal knowledge of your intended's strength and weakness. Do not risk your lifelong happiness on good looks or such other silly reasons.
Marriage is a lottery because it is shrouded more or less in mystery.
Love is blind—often too blind. And so people go into the grab bag drawing, win or lose, some by a marvel of chance to draw a capital prize and others only a marbled gold brick.
Yes, marriage is a lottery.
More's the pity!

GREATNESS.
Ashes of Cigar Petrified.
William Jack of Terry, S. D., is the owner of a cigar which in its way is something of a curiosity. On September 13 of last year he smoked the cigar, smoking it so closely that he was unable to hold it longer without burning his fingers. A glance showed him that the ashes were still on the cigar, none of the ash having been dislodged, and in this condition he laid it on a shelf. To-day the cigar is in exactly the same condition, and no amount of handling has divorced the ashes from the stub. To all intents and purposes the stub and ashes have become petrified.
Some men think they achieve greatness by sitting beside celebrities at banquet when the flashlight photographs are taken.

THEATRES WARNED OF REQUIREMENTS AS TO ALL EXITS

Chief of the Fire Department Finds Many Violations of Law Requiring Doors to be Unlocked Yesterday.

Chief of the Fire Department Henry Klein made a tour of inspection of the theatres of the city yesterday afternoon and evening and in consequence the proprietors of these places of amusement will receive a sharp letter of warning as to the violations of the state laws. It all came about because yesterday was the really first winter day and the proprietors of the theatres kept their exit doors locked to avoid any draughts being felt by the patrons.

The law on this question is very strict and provides that during all performances all exit doors must be unlocked and all passageways free from refuse. It provides for a fine running from one dollar up to $500 and also gives the judge a right to impose a jail sentence upon the offenders. In fact the law is pretty plain on the question and all violators in the future are going to be given a good taste of its requirements.

Chief Klein started at the Myers theatre in the afternoon during the concert of the Myers band. According to his report he found not only all exits but one leading into the alley at 9:25 at the Majestic theatre the exits were bolted and locked. The passageway was also obstructed. At 1:30 at the Lyric the exits were bolted and the west exit obstructed by the all the curtain hanks on. At the Nickelodeon at 9:45 the exits were bolted and locked and a rear exit was stuck of the curtain.

At 9:50 at the Elfrage theatre the exit was open on the east side but the west side exit opened into a blind alley. At 10:02 at the Columbia theatre the exit was open but the passageway was obstructed.

Mr. Klein in speaking of the affair this morning said: "I inspected every theatre in the city yesterday and found many violations of the state law which requires all exits to be unlocked during any performance. I do not think it will happen again and after consultation with the district attorney think that we shall give the proprietors a letter of warning rather than prosecute them this time."

District Attorney Fisher stated that there were clear violations of the law in almost every case but that under the circumstances he thought that a letter of warning giving the quotation from the law would be sufficient at the present time and that no arrests would be made. "I shall mail a letter to each theatre owner as a warning," he said, "and if there is any further complaint we will prosecute them."

SCIENCE NOTES.

The corn paper, which is a new device recently introduced, does not perform the operation of popping the corn by the utilization of the heat generated by the friction of the corn against the paper.

The importance of this invention would not ordinarily impress us, but the most casual observer will realize that a great deal of this corn in this shape is consumed during the summer season, when it is found to be in every amusement park in the country.

The "winging" has been so far perfected that it is made use of as an advertisement feature of a Paris shop. The hoop hangs in front of the store and at all times during the day and night there is a continual concert of musical features accompanied with vocal references to the virtues of the articles for sale within the store.

According to the investigation of the United States Geological Survey, Virginia was the pioneer coal producing state. The occurrence of coal was known in the Richmond basin as early as 1761, and in 1769 shipments were made to some of the Northern states. In 1828, according to R. C. Taylor, the production amounted to 8,211 gross tons. The first coal was taken from what is usually termed the Richmond basin, a small area in the southeastern portion of Virginia, near the city of Richmond.

The coal is of rather low grade when compared with that from other districts with which it has to come into competition. This coal is now mined only for local consumption.

With the extension and development of the railroads of the Eastern part of Canada, the prospects grow brighter for the establishment of a new, open route between the Eastern and Western coast-lands. The Newfoundland and the other islands will be some convenient part of great Britain and the prospect of this route will possibly shorten the transatlantic trip by 26 hours between the United States and England. But little railroad construction is required to make the route from the coast to the interior. A great point in favor of this route is that it is claimed to be practically free of ice, and at all seasons of the year vessels may ply this water with speed and safety. A further development of this scheme is a tunnel under the Straits of Belle Isle, so that a steady ship service may be established at the most eastern point of Newfoundland, which means a further saving of time.

The Automobile is a new advertising device which is designed for window display. The observer sees nothing but a gilt frame with a ground glass and on the back with a shadow box. Extending back from this screen is a funnel which excludes all light from the back of the screen with the exception of that which comes from an automatic, self-centering lamp situated back of the rear opening in the funnel. The machine is equipped with 80 slides, showing any subjects desired, and when in operation will automatically display them in succession upon the ground glass screen at intervals of eight to nine seconds.

ARE STILL SEEKING JOHN JACOB ASTOR

NOTHING DEFINITE IS HEARD FROM MILLIONAIRE AND HIS YACHT.

FRIENDS THINK THEM SAFE

Liner Captain Reassures His Certainty That Boat Is Safe In San Juan Harbor—Communication with Port Rican City Regained.

New York, Nov. 23.—The whereabouts of Col. John Jacob Astor and his yacht Naumakal are still uncertain notwithstanding that one of the most persistent searches ever made at sea is being continued without abatement in an endeavor to locate the missing vessel.

The latest and most positive report came from Caracas, when the captain of the Red D liner Caracas reassured with certainty that it was the Astor yacht he had seen safely at anchor in San Juan, Porto Rico, November 16—or after the hurricane had passed.

He said the yacht appeared to have suffered no damage.

Confident Yacht Is Safe.

William A. Dolbey, secretary of the Astor estate, and Douglas Robinson and Nicholas Biddle, trustees, are confident this report is correct and it has served to relieve their anxiety. They are still making every effort to get into communication with San Juan, however.

Although Key West succeeded in getting messages through to San Juan, no reply confirming the presence of the Naumakal had been received and it is possible, although it is but mere speculation, that the yacht has put out again for a cruise, the storm having subsided, and that the party aboard is still ignorant of the anxiety felt here for their safety.

Leaves Santo Domingo in Hurricane. San Domingo, Nov. 23.—The Naumakal arrived here November 10 and departed early on the morning of the 12th, her destination being San Juan. While anchored in the harbor the hurricane sprang up and the Naumakal slipped her anchor in order to get away quickly.

Steamship Herrera Missing. New York, Nov. 23.—Cable dispatches received from Havana state forth that the Cuban steamship Maria Herrera of the Herrera line is missing and may have been lost in the hurricane that swept over the West Indies a fortnight ago. The Maria Herrera is engaged in inter-island traffic. She is 278 feet long and registers 1,341 tons net.

Invented the Corset. Catherine de Medici is said to have introduced the lashed corset into France, and no article of woman's dress has probably been more condemned and yet remained as popular. One monarch went so far as to require a wicked woman to wear the corset, thinking thus to bring it into disrepute, but without effect. Most women, from experience, know that this part of the dress is essential to comfort, and all the laws in the world will not make any difference.

Success. Some men act upon the principle that in order to be successful in business it is always necessary to compel other people to wait in the anteroom.

KIDNEY OR BLADDER MISERY GOES AND YOUR LAME BACK FEELS FINE

Several doses will regulate your out-of-order Kidneys making Backache vanish.

Hundreds of folks here are needlessly miserable and worried because of out-of-order kidneys, backache or bladder trouble.

If you will take several doses of Pope's Diuretic all misery from a lame back, rheumatism, painful urination, inflamed or swollen eyelids, nervous headache, irritability, dizziness, weakness, indigestion, and other symptoms of overworked or deranged kidneys will vanish.

Uncontrollable, smarting, frequent urination (especially at night) and all bladder misery ends.

This unusual preparation goes at once to the disordered kidneys, bladder and urinary system, and distributes its healing, cleansing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and completes the cure before you realize it.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder, or feel rheumatism coming, begin taking this harmless medicine, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pope's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pope, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and respectable medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Only curative results can come from taking Pope's Diuretic, and a few days' treatment means clean, active, healthy kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and you feel fine.

Accept only Pope's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—any drug store—anywhere in the world.

THE SAVORY SEAMLESS ROASTER

DO YOU KNOW WHAT IT MEANS TO HAVE A SAVORY IN THE HOUSE?

IT MEANS—That whether it is beef, or veal, or lamb, or pork, or fowl, the roast is basted in its own rich, sweet, natural juices just long enough and then self-browned just brown enough.

IT MEANS—That every ounce of nourishing goodness and flavor there is in the roast is retained by the air-tight cover; none of it escapes into the oven through dampers, for there are no dampers.

ELEPHANTS KILLED FOR MUSEUM

Four Fall Before Col. Roosevelt and His Son.

Nairobi, British East Africa, Nov. 23.—Reports received from the American hunting expedition are to the effect that all the members of the party are well and will return to Londanal November 30.

During the hunting on the Gunga Inghen plateau Col. Roosevelt and Kermit Roosevelt, in company with the African explorer, Carl E. Akeley, killed four elephants for the American Museum of Natural History at New York.

Mr. Roosevelt has decided to give one of the elephants killed earlier to the museum of the University of California.

The party took many other trophies, including five horned gazelles, a leopard, a roan bush buck, a lion's antelope, an oribi, a singling topi, a baboon and a kob.

TAKE OUT 43 DEAD FROM MINE

CHERRY COLLIERY RESCUERS ARE ON LAST LEVEL SEEK-ING LIVING.

NEW FIRE PERILS ESCAPE

Believed at Least 150 Miners Are Alive
In Mine—Savers Work with Renewed Energy to Reach and Rescue Them.

BULLETIN.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 23.—Fire has broken out with renewed violence in the second gallery of the St. Paul mine and now threatens the main shaft. All work of rescue has ceased while the entire working force available is fighting the fire. Mine Manager Taylor is in charge of the work. Should the main shaft be injured materially by the fire all hope of aiding those in the mine for many days will be ended.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 23.—Before tonight the St. Paul mine is expected to give up its 200 dead or fainted workers, entombed nine days. Entrance to the lowest drift was forced just before midnight by firemen and shovellers.

Other workers are digging frantically amid steam and fire damp, often driven back by bursts of flame, toward the extremity of the east second level, where some miners are thought to have fled.

Knowledge that 23 miners were taken out of the east second level who had lived at least a week after the first fire and that one body was still warm spurs the workers to their greatest speed. They would have saved one man, it is said, if they had not been driven back temporarily by an explosion.

Forty-two bodies were recovered Monday. Fifty-nine were taken out previously. Twenty men have been rescued. This leaves more than two hundred unaccounted for.

Exploring Lowest Gallery.

The opening to the third, or lowest level of the St. Paul mine was forced shortly before midnight last night. The removal of bodies or the rescue of scores believed to be imprisoned in the vein will begin soon.

Tests showed the existence of air in the lower vein. Candles lowered into it on strings had the flame sucked away from the shaft, showing the presence of an air current in the vein. Thousands of gallons of water have been poured into the gallery in the effort to extinguish the fires in the level above it.

With air and water in abundance in the mine, hope for the rescue of those within it is strong in the breasts of those watching above.

Expect to Find Many.

The opening that has been cleared is a continuation of the main shaft. The shaft proper ends at the second level, but to the gallery 167 feet below a smaller opening extends, to which a small cage runs. This cage was attached to the larger cage with a rope, and the effort to bring it to the second level was begun.

That the cage would contain bodies of the dead on its first trip or be crowded with living was the ardent expectation of those working to lift it. It was asserted that the miners, hearing the moving of the machinery, would hasten to the cage and that its first trip would add as many to the list of rescued as the car would hold.

Driven Back by Flames.

The 23 taken from the east level were in a pocket toward which the rescuers, led by Capt. Corrigan of Chicago, had been digging their way when it was reported entombed men were heard calling for help and counting. They drove the fire back inch by inch, dug aside cave-ins and dragged out bodies of mules.

They were almost upon the walled-in space in which they expected to find miners alive when a burst of flame drove them back. The firemen in front were burned on the face and hands. They were taken to the surface and given medical attention.

Capt. Corrigan, one of those driven to the surface, returned, despite the advice of officials.

An hour later Capt. Corrigan's men dug through the wall of the pocket and came upon the 22 bodies and the dying miner. Only four of the bodies were decomposed. Many of the others apparently had been dead only a few hours.

Wild scenes followed the carrying of the dying man to the hospital car. "They are alive," came the cry from all sides and a rush that almost carried the bearers of their feet began. The soldiers were hurried to the spot and forced back the crowd, while physicians and nurses worked over the body of the man in the car.

Death from Weakness.

The work of hoisting the other victims to the surface did not cease. As the first load of three stretchers, their burdens and their carriers, reached the top, the crowd surged back to the car, a few yards away.

The rescuers who carried up the 23 said there was evidence that the men had walled themselves in for several days, but had emerged to seek food or water and had met death in the black damp.

At a point beyond where the searchers had gone several declared they could see the shattered blocking of a pocket where the men had taken refuge. The bodies were scattered along the gallery for many yards, and the men who found them believed they collapsed of weakness, or asphyxiation before they had gone 50 yards toward the entrance. Some of the bodies were burned and it is probable that of the 23 not all had been inmates of the pocket.

The recovering of 42 bodies during the day was attended by some of the saddest scenes of the disaster. Across the fields, as the first signals of "bodies coming up" was given, tumbled and labored almost 100 women and children, who had been driven from the shaft by the fierce wind and cold.

The identification of the bodies was a comparatively easy one. There were no smoke stains or burns on the bodies. Physicians declared that all but a few had died of asphyxiation. Some had torn every vestige of clothing from their bodies in their death agony.

Among the first bodies carried out were those of two of the "trapper boys." The frail bodies of the children, neither more than 14 years old, were tenderly placed in the temporary morgue by bearers who wept as bitterly as if the children were their own.

Victims Whittle Toy Fans. An incident attending the finding of the bodies is a source of mystery to everyone about the mine. Close beside the forms of several of the men, were found a half dozen toy fans, such as are fashioned by school children out of peach baskets or thin strips of wood.

They had been laboriously whittled by one or more of the men. For what purpose, or at what time, the men found time to shape the strange souvenirs of the tragedy is inexplicable to the finders of the bodies.

Debris which may take days to remove was found back of the pocket in the east gallery.

Many Rats Found Alive. Rescuers coming to the surface reported that live rats had been discovered in a newly-explored portion of the mine. This increased the hope that the rats came from remote sections of the cavern, where comparatively pure air remained, and that if the rats could live there, men also could.

"The noise of the rats scurrying over the loose dirt at first was thought to be men behind a wall," said one of the rescue gang. "We stopped to listen. It sounded like scratching and our hearts stood still for a moment, for we thought we were about to come upon another crowd of live men. We listened long enough to convince ourselves that it was only rats, however."

"The significance of this is that dread black damp does not lie along the floor of a great part of the mine. The men whom we are trying to reach on the supposition that they are still alive are practical miners, and if they heard rats they quickly got to that part of the mine."

An official of the mine declared that if any more men are brought out alive the work would have to be done within 24 hours, as the men must necessarily be almost starved. But, he said, would be able to live longer because of their ability to find crumbs and scraps of food scattered about from the men's lunches.

Others Are Alive, Says Newsman.

Richard Newsman, chief of the state board of mine examiners, said: "I am now convinced that there are living men in the mine. Every possible effort is being made to reach them. Experienced miners would certainly wall themselves in when caught in such circumstances. It was expert knowledge that saved the men now restored to their homes."

"I do not believe that the men will die if they are walled in, even if the delay should be unavoidably extended. I personally knew men who were entombed in an English mine for 14 days, under exactly similar conditions. The majority of them completely recovered. Those in the mine here might possibly live another week or more, especially if they have enough water to moisten their lips."

Would Return to Lead Rescue.

George Semech, one of the 20 men saved Saturday, begged to be allowed to go back in the mine and guide a party of rescuers. Because of his weakened condition, the mine physician, Dr. Howe, refused to allow him to descend.

"There were 27 in my gang originally," said Semech. "Big Paul," the Frenchman, died. He fell down and hit his head. But there were six more who went out, trying to find water. Those men are still alive. All of us know that they would not have died under the conditions then existing, but they were among the best and most experienced miners we had."

"The reason why I wanted to go down so bad is that I know that part of the mine thoroughly and could go down there in the dark and find my way anywhere."

Certain Fifty Men Are Alive.

"I am to hell with the fire damp. We've got to go in and get those men out anyway, because I know just where they are. These are the men I heard shouting for help in the night. It's a shame not to take a few chances when we know these fellows are in there and there cannot be very much rock between us and them."

"It's pretty hard to use more than 50 men in a shift at the bottom, because the drafts are narrow and the men get in each other's way so that it makes the work go slower instead of faster. But I believe shifts ought to be changed every hour, so that those working can go along at top speed while they are at it."

Attell Beats Up Moran.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 23.—Abe Attell was given the decision over Jimmy Moran, the Brooklyn featherweight, at the conclusion of their eight-round bout last night at the Phoenix club. Moran took a game beating.

SAMUEL GOMPERS SCORES LAWYERS AT OBSTRUCTORS

Declares Liability Laws Are Needed to Provide Compensation for Injured Employees.

New York, Nov. 23.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, paid his respects to the legal profession at the opening session of the National Civic Federation's annual meeting.

He was discussing the need in this country of new laws to cover the subject of employers' liability and to provide adequate compensation to wage earners injured by accident.

"The lawyers will prevent our getting the best and the wisest laws in this matter," he said. "They will have little difficulty in finding almost insurmountable constitutional objections, for the resources of our constitution, as lawyers for interpretation are limited, particularly when they are superinduced by the opportunity for well-earned fees."

"All we can hope for is a little progress. We must go on with our work of spreading the light. For the present let us be satisfied with establishing some semblance of the justice which is demanded by such disasters as this most recent one at Cherry, Ill."

John Mitchell also spoke, saying the natural conditions of mining in this country are more safe than in Europe, but that nearly five men out of every 1,000 employees are killed annually, whereas in Belgium, England and Germany the average is about one to 1,000. He said the laws should aim to protect workers more adequately.

J. D. ARCHBOLD IS OPTIMISTIC.

Standard Oil Man Expects Repeal of Anti-Trust Act.

New York, Nov. 23.—Conferences of officials and leading counsel of the Standard Oil Company were held to begin outlining the company's course following the court's decision that the trust must be dissolved. Thirty days are allowed before the decree takes effect. Within that time the appeal which the corporation announced that it would take to the United States supreme court will be perfected.

"I believe that the decision will result in legislation looking toward the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust act," said John D. Archbold, vice-president. "For under that law it is not only impossible for practically any corporation to transact business, but even partnerships may be attacked. I believe that the officials at Washington are coming to the view that the law is too drastic and that even Mr. Roosevelt himself shares in that opinion."

Cobb Fined for Assault.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 22.—Ty Cobb, outfielder on the Detroit baseball team, was fined $100 and costs for assaulting George Stanfield, a night watchman in a hotel on the occasion of the Detroit team's last visit to Cleveland.

GEN. CLARKSON WILL LOSE POST

Will Not Be Reappointed New York
Customs Surveyor.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Franklin MacVough, secretary of the treasury, announced that Gen. James S. Clarkson, who was chairman of the Republican national committee from 1890 to 1902, would not be reappointed as surveyor of the port of New York on January 1. It was said that Special Agent Parr I. It was said that Special Agent Parr I. It was said that Special Agent Parr I.

Gen. Clarkson, as surveyor, has been in charge of some of the custom house employees who have been accused of fraud in connection with the false weighing of sugar and other importations.

There never has been the slightest hint, however, that Gen. Clarkson had any knowledge that the men whom Collector Loeb marked for slaughter were guilty of wrongdoing. His record, it was stated, has been absolutely free from suspicion of any kind.

Railway Must Fix Roadbed.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 23.—Gov. W. R. Stubbs served notice on the officers of the Missouri Pacific railway system that he will instruct the attorney general to bring action to place the Central branch, which runs through a rich farming community in central-northern Kansas, into the hands of a receiver unless the roadbed is repaired at once.

Fire Damp Burns Six.

Martins Ferry, O., Nov. 23.—By the explosion of fire damp in the Florence mine of the Younghusband and Ohio Coal Company, near this city, six miners were fatally burned and the mine badly damaged. The men were rescued by comrades, but will die.

Cousin of Mrs. Lincoln Is Dead.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23.—Mrs. Julia Orma Gaugh, who was a cousin of Abraham Lincoln's wife, and who, when she was a girl of nine years, was killed by the French general Lafayette, died at her daughter's home at the age of 94 years.

Making Filaments.

A difficulty in making filaments of nonduetile metals, like tungsten, has been ingeniously overcome in a new patented process of the Siemens-Make firm of Germany. The tungsten or other filament metal is inclosed in a thin coating of ductile metal, and the whole is drawn through a die-plate until the required fineness is reached. The coated filament, attached to a conducting support, is exhausted from the hub, and an electric current is turned on, when the heat quickly drives off the ductile metal, leaving the refractory filament.

COST OF CANAL INCREASED.

Panama Waterway Will Require
Nearly $400,000,000 to Complete.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The cost of completing the Panama canal will be nearly $400,000,000, instead of the $150,000,000 reported to congress in 1902, when the work of digging the great waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific was authorized.

Latest estimates by the canal commission and ready for the sanction of congress were made public by the war department. They are included in the annual report signed by Chief Engineer Goethals and Secretary Dickinson.

New York, Nov. 23.—"Work on the Panama canal has progressed so far that its opening seems to be reckoned in days. It will be finished ahead of the time set—1915."

This was the optimistic view taken by Senator Frank M. Brandegee of Connecticut, a member of the joint congressional committee which has been inspecting the isthmian waterway, when he arrived here on the Panama line steamer Colon. "The progress on the canal is magnificent," said the senator, "and it is all due to the perfect organization. Every man is in harmony with the government, which in turn is working harmoniously with every man."

N. Y. ELECTION COST $400,000.

Men of High and Low Degree Contribute to Campaign.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Multi-millionaires, judges, lawyers, doctors, merchants and politicians of high and low degree figure in the election expense statements of the Republican county committee of New York. Tammany hall and the Business Men's Municipal association for the last campaign filed yesterday. The three campaign funds had an aggregate fund of nearly $400,000. To the Republican committee $214,768 was contributed. All of this was spent with the exception of $207.70. Tammany hall had a fund of $140,126. The balance left is $1,468.36. The Business Men's Municipal association received $30,307.72, all of which was spent.

The heaviest contributor to the Republican fund was J. Morpont Morgan, who gave $7,000 in two installments. Tammany hall's list of contributors is headed by James H. Regan of the Hotel Knickerbocker, who gave $3,000.

W. E. Dodge was the largest contributor to the Business Men's Municipal association fund, giving $2,385.

Altar Jilt to Pay $3,700.

Storm Lake, Ia., Nov. 23.—Failure to appear at the church on his wedding day cost George Shado, a wealthy old bachelor, $3,700. Miss Emily Hampton brought suit against him for breach of promise, and the jury awarded her that amount.

Fire Losses in New York.
As to fire losses in New York city, it may be said that they amount annually to about $6,000,000, which does not include expense to the city of some 300,000 false alarms. Since 1883 the loss from fire in the city aggregated $130,000,000. This total represents 125,486 fires; or 4,000 fires a year, or 13 a day, or one in every two hours.

Caruso's Costly Kilt.
Not content with his golden-brown dress-suit, Signor Caruso has invested in a kilt, for which he has paid an Edinburgh tailor $375. He will wear it when performing in "Lucia di Lammermoor" at the Hamburg opera shortly, and when he sings the part at New York the costly garment will again be called into requisition.

You must read the Entertaining story by CHARLES BARON, "A Christmas Goose." Read how a wild goose was sent to the Stoughton family who lived 10 miles out at sea in a light house and who could not afford to buy one. (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Superior, Wis., Nov. 23.—James Miller, a structural iron worker from Pittsburg, in the employ of the Hyde-Patterson company, fell 80 feet while working at the new Carnegie Coal company dock here. He was taken to the hospital and it was supposed that he had sustained injuries that would prove fatal. The doctors could find nothing of a serious nature out of order, however, and now the man is ready to leave the hospital. He will probably be at work by the end of this week.

MAJ. BOYNTON RECOVERING FROM A SERIOUS ILLNESS

Patriarch Leader Of Maccabees, Who Has Been Near To Death, Getting Better Slowly.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 23.—Congratulatory letters and telegrams from all sections of the country are pouring in for Maj. N. S. Boynton, pa-trarch leader of the Maccabees, who had been near death's door for several weeks but is now on the slow road to recovery.

Maj. Boynton was born in Port Huron June 23, 1857 and was educated here and in Waukegan, Ill. Before the civil war he was engaged in mercantile business in Port Huron, Chicago and other cities. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted as private and advanced by his bravery to the rank of major in the 8th Michigan cavalry. He particularly distinguished himself by cutting off the retreat and finally capturing Gen. Morgan, the famous Confederate guerrilla chief.
After the war Maj. Boynton returned to Port Huron and served one term in the Michigan legislature and several terms as mayor of his native city.

An American Huntress.

An American girl, Miss Eilers,
whose home is said to be somewhere
in Pennsylvania, caused a sensation
at a recent stag hunt on Exmoor, England, by appearing in a costume strikingly masculine. People remarked not so much on her riding astride—
for in the last few seasons so many women have adopted the cross saddle that they are called the "breeches brigade"—as on the general "cowboy" style of her "get-up." But when the hunt was over comment upon her appearance changed to expressions of admiration for her horsemanship and sportsmanship.

LIFE ISN'T WORTH LIVING

When this Statement is Made It
May be Generally Attributed... to the Lack of Good Health

We want to talk to people who are nervous, who suffer from frequent headaches, who don't enjoy their food, who are irritable, quickly lose their temper, who are so exhausted that they feel they must give up, and have become so despondent that life doesn't seem worth living. We believe we know what is the matter with these people in this condition, and if they will follow our advice we can tell them how to regain good health and that buoyancy of feeling which makes life seem surrounded with happiness and sunshine.

Most of the above described conditions are chiefly caused by what is commonly called catarrh, a "below par" condition of mucous membranes. This delicate lining of certain of the body cavities becomes weakened, inflamed and congested until the whole system is weakened, mental depression ensuing as one of the results. The wise way to overcome this condition is through a treatment of the general system. We have the treatment, and we are so positive it will produce the results we claim for it that we will supply it to any one with the understanding that we will return to them every penny paid us in every instance where the treatment is not in every way satisfactory and beneficial to them.

We want you to try Rexall Mucous-Tone, which is a scientifically devised alterative tonic and body builder, its action being to aid the body in its effort to re-establish the natural and healthy functions of the mucous membranes.

Rexall Mucous-Tone thus acts to expel the "catarrhal poison," restore the mucous cells to good health, tone up the whole body, allay inflammation, remove congestion and stimulate the system to healthy activity. It is splendid for aiding in the building up of flesh and muscle tissue and removing weaknesses.

Come to our store and get a bottle of Mucous-Tone, and after giving it a reasonable trial, if you are not satisfied, simply tell us so, and we will hand back your money without question. Surely nothing could be more fair than this. Rexall Mucous-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, fair than this. Rexall Mucous-Tone Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Janesville only at our store—The Rexall Store, The Smith Drug Co.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

FIVE girls in my personal acquaintance have been married during the past month. And as that probably means at least five thousand in my newspaper acquaintance I am going to make today's Chit-Chat just a little talk to all those girls who have passed through the portals of marriage and are just entering upon one of the hardest years of their lives.

"Hardest," I hear those 5,000 brides echo indignantly. "You mean happiest."

Yes, perhaps I do mean happiest too, but I also mean hardest.

And I think I'll add most important.

For this is the year of adjustments and according to you—and the man—manage its adjustments, meet its crises, fulfill its obligations and solve its difficulties you lay the foundation for a happy or unhappy married life.

All of us know that the brother and sister who have been brought up in the same house, with more or less the same habits, the same tastes, the same way of looking at things, the same intimate little family customs, quite frequently have difficulty in getting along together.

Is it any wonder then that two people who have been brought up with totally different tastes and customs and habits and ways of looking at things, when they come to share a daily existence should occasionally find points on which they differ?

It isn't any wonder at all. It is simply inevitable.

And the only way to evolve out of such a situation a happiness that will not mean the complete submergence of one or the other personality, is simply for each to make up his mind that he is going to try to put himself in the other's place when any debate comes up.

"He ought to be enough in sympathy with me to fall in with my moods," I heard a woman say once, complaining that her husband was frequently melancholy when she wanted to be gay, and light-hearted when she felt serious.

Apparently it never occurred to that woman that her husband might think she ought to be enough in sympathy with him to fall in with his moods.

You often hear young brides say, "It isn't that I mind Tom, Dick or Harry's doing that thing so much. It's simply that I'm hurt to think he should persist in doing it when he knows I don't like to have him do it. It doesn't seem to me that he can love me as he used to."

I wonder that it never occurs to the ladies that perhaps Tom, Dick or Harry is saying, "It isn't that I care so much about doing that thing. What I mind is having my wife persist in objecting to it when she thinks that I want to do it. It doesn't seem to me as if she could care very much for me when she opposes my wishes like that."

Did you ever hear what George Eliot said about friendship—

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

Government Positions for Men and Women

The Government gives Railway Mail Clerks $600 to $1,200, and other employees up to $2,500 annually.

Uncle Sam will soon hold examinations throughout the country for Postal Employees, Custom House Clerks, Stenographers, Bookkeepers, Department Clerks, and other Government positions. The work is pleasant, hours short and a position for life. Thousands of appointments will be made. Any man or woman over 18, in City or Country can get free information and instructions by addressing the Bureau of Instruction, 1094 Hamlin Building, Rochester, N. Y.

King's Private Railway Station.

King Leopold's latest whim, practically completed, is a private railway leading from the Brussels suburban station at Laeken to the palace, about a mile away. This railway, although hidden from sight, is luxuriously appointed; from it his majesty steps into an elevator which conveys him direct to his apartments. The railway, tunnel and fittings cost $1,200,000.

LIFE OF A PIMPLE.

Complexions are Cleared and Pimples Disappear Overnight Without Trouble.

The dispensary of medicine, a new skin disease, ask that nature be given that one is urged to purchase it without first obtaining an experimental package. Every one who has tried it knows that the first result is a soft, smooth skin, free from pimples, and that the surface affected is not too large. The itching ceases on first application. It will also cure acne, folliculitis, scaly scalp, dandruff, hair loss, and every other form of skin, including itching feet, scaly scalp, chapping of hands and feet, the presence of pus on the face and neck, such as the face and hands, is not perceptible. Water and soap cannot be used in connection with it, as these irritate and prolong skin troubles, sometimes even causing them.

As to the experimental package of possum, it can be had free of charge by mail of the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York. It alone is sufficient to clear the complexion over night, and to rid the face of pimples in twenty-four hours.

THURSDAY'S DANCE
AT ASSEMBLY HALL

Committee in Charge of the Siniappli Club Dance Plan Delightful Affair.

On Thanksgiving night, at Assembly Hall, will be held one of the first large society dances of the winter under the auspices of the Sini-appli Club. The orchestra of Chicago, one of the best known dance orchestras in the Windy City, which furnishes the music for the majority of the Country Club dances
in and about Chicago, has been engaged for the evening. The committee have also made arrangements for a delicious buffet luncheon, this however will be extra. They have also made an innovation this year by charging for guests as well as holders of the dance tickets. The affair is a subscription one and the tickets are being sold from the 1st signed some weeks ago. The hall will be most tastefully decorated for the occasion and with the many Thanksgiving visitors here will be a gay affair.

The Optimist's Corner
Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A.M., M.D.

Live up stairs if you wish to be in good health! "Up how many flights?" Only one flight of seven steps. I will describe them.

First Step.—Eat wheat, oats,
corn, fruits, beef and mutton,
plainly cooked, in moderate quantity, and but two meals a day.

Second Step.—Breathe good
air day and night.

Third Step.—Exercise freely
in the open air.

Fourth Step.—Retire early and rise early.

Fifth Step.—Wear flannel next
your skin every day of the year,
and so dispose your dress that your limbs shall be kept warm.
Baths frequently.

Sixth Step.—Live in the sunshine. Let your bedroom be one which receives a flood of light, and spend your days either out in the sunlight or in a room which is well lighted.

Seventh Step.—Cultivate a cheerful temper. Seek the society of jolly people. Absolutely refuse to worry, and above all don't be afraid to laugh.

Go up this flight of stairs.
Live above. Sickness cannot crawl up there. Disease prowls about in the basement, rarely does it get 'up stairs.'

DO YOU FEEL LIKE THIS?

Does your head ache or simply feel heavy and uncomfortable? Does your back ache?
Does your side ache? Do you feel fatigued out? This tonic restores health, known as "Law's Family Medicine" will clear your head, remove the pain in side or back and restore your strength. Nothing else is so good for the stomach and bowels. At drug stores and dealers, 25c.

Street Freak Of Checked Serge.

Much wider latitude is allowed one in the selection of suitable street
frocks during the vogue of the separate coat, especially the long separate coat, than of old, when coat
and skirt combinations were imperative. The simple little frock which above, or dark violet serge with cross
lines of white, is smart and useful.
The trimming consisted of plain cloth matching the ground color of the dress material and decorated by rows of purple soutache. These bands trimmed bodice and skirt and were used for cuffs and girdle. Collar and undersleeves were of violet net.

DEBATING TEAM WAS CHOSEN LAST NIGHT

George Yahn, Will Hyde and Lewis
French Will Represent J. H. S. in League Debates.

In the preliminary debates held at the high school last evening, George Yahn, Will Hyde, and Lewis French were chosen by the judges to represent the high school in the coming debates with the Beloit high school
given under the auspices of Beloit college. Mallard Palmer was chosen as alternate. Rev. W. P. Christy, C.
H. Hemmingsway and Prof. John Arbutnot judged the speeches of the contestants last evening. The markings were made on arguments and presentation.

The team this year, with one exception, is the same as last year, and as Janesville was successful over the Lima City boys' forensic team last year they hope to again overwhelm them with argument. The debate between the two schools is to take place in Beloit. The Janesville team will be allowed to choose the side of the question they desire to speak on.

Proof of Success.

If every day we can feel, if only for a moment, the elation of being alive,
the realization of being our best selves, of filling our destined scope and trend, you may be sure that we are succeeding.—Bloss Carman.

TURKEY DAY HAS BEEN HERALDED

GENERAL RANGE OF "TRIMMINGS" IS LESS THAN LAST YEAR.

FOWL PRICES ARE HIGHER

However, Taking It All in All a Dinner Would Cost Less Than Last Year.

President Taft may have a forty-eight pound turkey for his Thanksgiving dinner, but from present indications, there are few in Janesville who would wish to imitate him, even though a bird of like dimensions could be secured. "With turkey" meant turkey anywhere from twenty-five to twenty-eight cents a pound, dressed,
there is a great likelihood that pater
familias will admonish his voracious progeny that the "trimmings" will have to stand the brunt of the onslaught on this day of thanksgiving
for the year 1909.

Although Janesville depends more on "home grown" turkeys than on the cold storage, trust products, there is every reason to believe that there will not be much difference in price when the buying begins. It is stated that the retail price in Chicago will only be thirty cents while in Milwaukee
the price expected to hold will be between twenty-five and twenty-eight cents a pound. Local dealers are loath to give advance information with regard to prices for fear that birds that have been contracted for will be sold at a profit in price before delivery. One dealer has secured 300 from the farmers and judging from what is reported as being paid for the undressed birds, the retail price
of from twenty-five to twenty-eight cents
will be sure to hold.

Together with the increase in the price of the ideal piece of resistance,
the cost of the less but cheaper poultry
has also climbed the ladder of Chickens, ducks and geese have all advanced from three to five cents
above last year's prices. These prices are of course, for dressed fowls.
Naturally, among different dealers,
there are various ways of selling their goods, completely dressed, or simply dressed and plucked. The price naturally varies with the amount of waste
that the customer buys.

Although the figures presented as regards poultry are somewhat staggering, the cost of what are known as the trimmings, the ideal adjuncts to a Thanksgiving dinner, will be equal or a little lower than the cost of the same goods last year. According to figures given by Janesville grocers, pumpkins will be about five or ten cents each, according to size, or about
a cent a pound, the same as last year.
Sweet potatoes, almost indispensable
"on the side" sell on an average, eight pounds for a quarter, which practically represents last year's prices.

Squash is from twenty-five to fifty cents a dozen cheaper this year and cranberries, although the Wisconsin
crop was a failure, will retail for ten cents a quart, a drop of five cents from the 1908 price. Bananas, at ten cents twenty cents a dozen; oranges,
at about $1.50 a bushel, have not changed from last year. The greatest change is observed in the cost of Irish potatoes. Last year "spuds" were quoted at sixty-five and seventy cents
while at the present time they can be secured for nearly twenty cents less.

The above figures show that although the less important items on the Thanksgiving Day menu remain
the same or drop a little in price from last year's figures, the increase in cost of the central figure of the feast will more than counterbalance the saving made on the trimmings. It will be almost useless to desert the near-national bird for the more common roasts, for an advance of from two to three cents is promised for the cost of pork and beef.

MORE ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF A CHANGE

"Progress" Writes Relative To Rule
By Commission In Janesville.

To the Editor: We are living in an age of progress, times and conditions have changed, and the people of this great republic are rapidly adopting means and measures to meet the situation of this progressive era.
Permit me to call your attention to the radical changes made in many of the incorporated companies of our city during the last ten years.
For example: The Janesville Printing Company, Janesville Machine Company, Rock River Cotton Company, Janesville Barb Wire Company, Park
Pen Company, New Doty Mfg. Co., and many others that I might mention.

They found several years ago that
"the coat that fitted the boy does not fit the man."
The above named corporations, as well as others in our city in view of the wonderful development and victorious progress of our times discarded many of the men, methods and machinery that were good in their time.

They have raised their corporation
to a higher state of efficiency and profit by installing new blood, methods and machinery. The machinery being the newest and best that money could buy. The methods like the machinery strictly up to date.
The managers and superintendents
are all experts in their line, specially and scientifically trained for their respective positions. The workers in many of the departments are noted for their skill and ability.

This means that business is conducted on advanced lines, devoted to the promotion of the corporation's best interest. The above methods coupled with view and carelessness
have made the corporations of our city realize in many cases their highest expectation of success.

It is in mind that in the above named positions that the men who occupy the same are not only fitted for the positions by education and ability but also devote their entire time to the duties assigned them.

portance than a business interest that represents $20,000?

Or a $1,000,000? Is as high a state of efficiency required to handle the business of a city whose value represents $20,000,000 as a business that represents only $20,000 of $100,000?
or a $1,000,000?

Does it require less time diligence
and efficiency to manage the various complicated departments of the City of Janesville representing 15,000 people than it does a corporation
manufacturing from three to five lines of goods and representing from three to twenty people?

There can be but one true logical answer to the questions. The larger the amount invested the more numerous and complicated the departments
the greater the needs and number of the people to be served; the greater the need of more time, diligence
and efficiency to successfully conduct the business.

What Janesville needs is a system
of government adopted to present conditions. In order to supply that need it will be necessary to abandon to a great extent methods that were formulated and used before the present day progress and civilization caused a demand for trained expert services.
"The coat that fitted the boy does not fit the man." In another article
I shall try to answer the objections made by writers in your paper against City Government by Commission.

FAMOUS PAINTINGS
WILL BE EXHIBITED

Turner Art Exhibit to Be Loaned to Monroe Schools Last of Week.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22.—The famous Turner art exhibit, containing two hundred of the most famous paintings of ancient and modern art, is to be loaned to the public schools absolutely free from the coming Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The exhibit is sent out from Boston, and all the pictures are reproduced directly from originals by the most scientific methods of reproduction. The collection will be displayed at the high school building on the days above mentioned. A nominal charge of ten and fifteen cents admission will be charged.

Thomas A. Thompson, an old and well known resident of Jordan township, is dead at his home, as the result of two paralytic strokes which he suffered on last Thursday. Mr.
Thompson was a veteran of the civil war, enlisting at the age of 17. He was assigned to Co. C, 5th Wisconsin volunteer infantry. He is survived by a wife and four children.
The funeral services will be conducted by O. P. Plancy Post of this city, of which he was a member.

The home of J. J. Kunderl has been thoroughly fumigated and the quarantine raised. The five-year-old son, who has been very ill from scarlet fever, has fully recovered from the effects of the disease.

Miss Laura Drake has sold her home in the first ward, consisting of a house and lot, to Edith Kuebel, the consideration being $1,150.

Fred Boks has purchased the gray
team, aged 4 and 5, owned by Andrew Hurtwig, of Chicago, for $450. Mr.
Boks has shipped the team together with eight other horses to Chicago.

Miss Charlotte Schuler went to Appleton yesterday to spend a week with the Misses Grace Miller and Edith Isely, who are attending the college at that place.

F. L. Chomowich, a former resident of this city, is now connected with a retail jewelry establishment
in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard
Jew, who have been visiting Mr.
Chomowich and family in Chicago,
have returned to their home in Los Angeles.

Miss Martha Hurzy has been appointed to fill a vacancy in the first and second grades of the public school at Argyle. Miss Hurzy taught the fall term of school at Clarno.

Jac. Regoz, Jr., is in Chicago this week on business.

R. D. Gorham has gone to Bloomer, Wis., and will also go to Ladysmith
and Chippewa Falls before returning home.

Mrs. Parker Newman of Juda visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L.
Herrman, and returned home yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Raymond have returned to Milwaukee after a few days' visit with U. T. Raymond and family.

Miss Cora Donner has accepted a position in the third grade of the public school at Blanchardville, and has gone to that city to take up her work.

EVANSVILLE DEER-HUNTERS
WERE SUCCESSFUL IN QUEST

Both Burr Tolles and Harry Blakeley Brought Down Fine Specimens
of Game.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Evansville, Nov. 22.—Burr Tolles, who for the past ten days has been deer-hunting near Fairchild, Wis., returned the last of the week. He had a most enjoyable trip and brought home a fine deer as evidence of his skill as a hunter. Harry Blakeley, who has been enjoying a two weeks'
vacation hunting near Athens, arrived home Saturday evening and also brought back one of the coveted prizes.

J. R. S. Blaine returned last evening from a very successful business trip
of four months' duration in Germany and left this morning with his wife
for their home in Beloit.

Leslie Hackett is expected home
from Chicago Wednesday evening to remain over Thanksgiving with his parents. He is now engaged as a bookkeeper for the American Chair company.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Searles had as their guests yesterday Mr. and Mrs.
William Parish, Miss Edith and M.
Parish, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gilley and son, Donald, Miss Mattie Hoyle
and Walter Remsburg of Stoughton;

What "Amberol" Means
When Edison Amberol (four-minute) records were first brought out by the National Phonograph company, many people expected to see transparent records like the amber that pipistoms
and sidecombs are made of.

The National Phonograph company assert, however, that the name "Amberol" has nothing whatever to do with the composition of the record,
but is simply in reference to the amber-like clearness and purity of tone
that these records give in reproducing music of all kinds.

Among the twenty-seven new Amberol records just announced are three by Harry Lauder, the famous Scottish comedian, one by Victor Herbert and his famous orchestra, one by Sousa's band and several excellent ballads and monologues.

The new Edison Standard (two-minute) records also include a Herbert number, a Sousa selection, comic songs by Grace Cameron, Billy Murray, Josie Sadler, one of Cal Stewart's Uncle Josh monologues and several dance selections.

Taking Amberol and Standard together, there are fifty-one records on this new list—and you can't afford to miss any of them.

HORSE SHOT AT REQUEST OF THE HUMANE SOCIETY

Animal With Broken Leg Had Been Turned Into Field Near the Pumping Station.

Information coming to Mrs. John Peterson of the Humane Society that a horse with a broken leg had been turned into an open field near the pumping station on South River street, she requested the police department to send an officer to kill the animal. Investigation was made by Chief Appleby and the beast was shot. People living near the pumping station say that the animal had been pastured in the field with its leg broken, for the past five days.

WHY NOT STOP THAT ITCH?
Druggist J. P. Baker Assures Relief
With Every 25 Cent Bottle.

Druggist J. P. Baker of this town says that he has found indisputable proof that eczema can be cured—not in one or two cases, but in scores of cases which he has studied.

He would, of course, not think of making such a recommendation to his neighbors and patrons, were it not that his years and years of success with D. D. D. Prescription enables him to speak of this remedy with confidence. It is a gentle, soothing wash with the mild oil of wintergreen
as a base. All the cures come to be permanent, at any rate, a trial bottle
at 25 cents will take away the itch at once—instantly. We are sure of this.

D'URBANO'S BAND IN THIRD ENGAGEMENT

Popular Musical Organization Sustains Reputation Made in Preceding Visit.

D'Urbano's Italian Band opened their third engagement at the Myers Theatre yesterday with a matinee and evening concert and their rendition of the numbers on the program fully sustains the excellent impression they made in their initial engagement.
D'Urbano, composer and leader, is one of the most talented musical artists
now playing in the United States and the band which he has gathered together has no peer in this country.

The program presented last night
showed the leader's skill in giving a well balanced and pleasing evening's entertainment. One of D'Urbano's compositions, the march "Majestic," selections from Aubert's "Maschenello,"

Verdi's "Traviata," and Rossini's "William Tell," with two vocal numbers
by Lillian Berry Reid and two popular pieces made up the offering for the evening. Miss Reid, who was heard in only a few songs at the last engagement, is a soprano of great ability, and backed by an admirable accompaniment makes her part of the entertainment one of the strongest.

The closing number of the program, Battiste's "Organ Overture," seemed to be the hit of the evening. The skillful arrangement of the instruments, the musical ability of the players and the magic baton of the leader himself, combined to produce the blush of sonorous grand organ
notes.

Only a faltered audience greeted the band on the first day of their engagement, but with warmer weather
the attendance will doubtless increase.
The succeeding programs, especially the matinees, will contain many light compositions, including the lighter
grand operas, popular pieces and comic opera selections.

HENRY C. SELFIDGE, COSMOPOLITAN MERCHANT.
Chicago, Ill.—The first great American merchant to invade England is Henry C. Selfridge. He has just completed and gotten nicely under way the largest store in London. He is spending a few days in Chicago. In an interview he said today:
"American merchants have much to learn from their British rivals, notwithstanding the general impression that British methods are antiquated. In spite of many customs which obviously deserve that adjective, there don't from what they are in Chicago, is one thing in which British surpass the American. That is in the identity in both cities. What appeals to an of representation with fact. London American—I speak of merchandising, merchants as a rule are scrupulous of course—will as surely appeal to a in never misrepresenting the quality of their goods, and the public has his attention.

That the best body-building and strengthening tonic for

Delicate Children

—is—Vinol

"My 9 year old daughter was weak, pale, and had no appetite. I gave her Vinol, and she began to thrive at once. She gained rapidly in weight, color and strength."—Mrs. W. H. GILMORE, Durand, Mich.
"My two children, who were puny and ailing, rapidly gained flesh and strength when I began to give them Vinol. I proved that Vinol is a splendid tonic for delicate children."—Mrs. C. ALLEN, New Bedford, Mass.

Vinol builds up healthy flesh and makes thin little limbs round and plump. Children love to take it.

We return people's money without question if Vinol does not accomplish all we claim for it. Try it, please.

show him began to talk. A high wind, blowing apparently from all quarters, hardened the flakes and propelled them with stinging force into the faces of the people in the streets. Brooks had no umbrella, nor had he gloves, and the wind cut to the bone. Yet he paid scant heed to his discomfort and nibbled away from Smith's nose. He turned up his coat collar and pulled his hat over his eyes. More than once when he thought he was being followed he went sick with fear. Every minute he expected to feel a hand on his shoulder.

Why should he lack the pluck to kill himself? A fugitive from justice, friendless and penniless, everything that was worth while in life gone for ever, what had he to hope from living? The prison door from which he had shrunk with such dread before now was wide open to receive him, would receive him as inevitably as day would follow the night. He remembered having read that a man shot through the brain never felt the messenger which snuffed out his life. In the drawer of his bureau was a loaded revolver that he had long kept there for self protection in case of need. A movement of his finger would end all. A feeling almost of relief came with this thought, and he quickened his steps. There was only one thing to fear now—that he would be caught before he could reach his room. As he trudged along he found himself at the corner of the street in which the Harrises lived.

Emma! How different she had been from the other! She had not taken; she had given. Love had not been dependent upon the bringing of gifts; it had been lavished upon him. When he had been dependent she had comforted him; when things were going wrong she had encouraged him; when his head ached she had rested it on her bosom. And it had come to this—that he had lost her and, with her, all that he was an outcast at her door.

An insane desire to see her took possession of him. It grew, became overpowering, swept aside all the objections of reason. He was a dying man, and nothing was denied to the dying. He retraced his steps and rang the bell. The door opened, and he ascended the well remembered stairs. Mrs. Harris' flat was on the first landing. A maid who did not know him answered his ring.

"Is Mrs. Brooks at home?" he asked.
The girl shook her head.
"Mrs. Brooks? No; no one of that name lives here. This is Mrs. Harris' apartments. Mrs. Harris and Miss Beth have gone out. Miss Emma is in."

Miss Emma! She had even disremembered his name, then! The blow was hard.

"I would like to see her," he said.
"Your card, sir, please."
"Tell her Mr. Smith is calling."

The name had flashed to him with the conviction that she would not receive him if he gave his own.

He followed on the heels of the maid.

"You needn't bother," he said and brushed past her at the door of the parlor.

Emma was arranging some ornaments on the mantelpiece. For a moment she did not recognize him. Then she recoiled, with a little cry, from the wild-eyed, disheveled specter who, but in hand, stood before her.

"Yes, Emma, it's me, or what is left of me," he said.
"What brings you here? How did you get in?" she demanded, with frightened eyes.

"Don't be afraid. You have nothing to fear from me," he assured her. "I'm going on a long journey—yes, a long journey, and I've come to say goodbye. You'll never see me again. I shall be no more trouble to anybody."

"There is no need to come here. I cannot receive you. You must go."
"Emma, I know how bad I was to you. how—"

Often The Kidneys Are

Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys must, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmor & Co., Blightman, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

"I cannot listen to your excuses. It is useless to recall the past. Please go!"

"I have no wish to recall it. I ask only your forgiveness—ask it as a dying man. You cannot refuse."

"You have been dead long years to me, and I have prayed God that I

Williams dealt him a smashing blow.

"I might never see you again. I paid you in full for my freedom. Why have you come to trouble me? Go, please, and leave me in peace."

"All right," he said sorrowfully. "I will go. Goodbye, Emma."

With bowed head he went toward the door, stopped and turned to her with outstretched arms, pleading in his eyes.

"Emma, one kiss—my pardon and absolution before I die."

"No; oh, no!"

She retreated, shuddering, terrified.

He followed her, desperate, resolved to take by force what she would not give, to feel once more in his arms the little form that once had nestled there fondly.

She read his purpose and shrieked.

Mrs. Harris, Beth and Captain Williams were just entering, and they rushed in with the maid.

Brooks turned to escape as Emma, almost hysterical with horror and fear, uttered screams after screams. He ran right into Williams, who recognized him at once and dealt him a sunning blow that sent him to the floor. Then the captain grasped the half-stunned man and, pulling him to his feet, held him while he inquired what had happened.

Emma, calmed by her mother and sister, tremblingly explained. Williams looked at his prisoner, undecided what to do. Brooks did not open his mouth. The captain walked him out on the landing and, threatening to kill him if he ever dared to molest Emma again, threw him down the stairs.

CHAPTER XXV.

BRUISED and dazed, aching all over and very weak, Brooks picked himself up and made his way to the street. He had now reached the extreme of hopelessness and desperation. Everybody, the whole world, was against him, except Jimmy Smith, and he could do nothing for him. The only being who had loved him had shrunk from him with dread, refused him the sacrament of a last kiss, besought him in charity.

He hardly knew how he got there, but he reached home without molestation and mounted by the stairway unperceived to his room. Once inside he locked the door and turned on the light. It was at least gratefully warm there, and he was at last safe from the clutches of the law. Escape lay at his hand. In a moment all would be over.

Nothing had been disturbed during his absence. The revolver was still in the drawer where he had left it. He took it and, gazing at himself in the bureau glass, raised the firearm to his right temple. He was appalled as he looked at the ghastly, haggard face before him and the eyes, fear haunted, that stared out of their dark and deeply sunken rims like the optics of an owl. The revolver shook in his numb hand, and he could scarcely bend his finger on the trigger.

What was his hurry? Why not wait until he had warmed his hand and mellowed the deed? If the police came for him death was at his beck and would cheat them at an instant's notice. His errand spirit inspired him with the desire to live a little longer.

He laid the revolver on the table and rubbed his hands to set the blood circulating. Then he held them over the heat radiator. He remembered that in the clothes closet was a full bottle of whisky. The stuff would soon warm him. He took off his overcoat to hang it up in the closet and felt in a pocket for his handkerchief. His hand encountered the roll of bills Smith had slipped in there. For a moment a gleam of hope flashed its cheering ray as he contemplated the money. Here was enough to enable him to get away.

Bonano

A Distinctive Drink

BONANO, the hot-fruit drink, is a distinctive drink.

Though similar in some respects to coffee, tea, chocolate and cocoa, it is, in other respects, quite unlike them. Possessing the good qualities of all these drinks, it has none of their harmful qualities.

BONANO—served hot—is flavory, appetizing, bracing, satisfying and extremely nourishing. A real food drink.

BONANO is the only table beverage in which high-food value is combined with harmless stimulation.

And BONANO has a delightful, spicy aroma—a rare, good flavor all its own.

Don't be prejudiced against BONANO. It is not a substitute for something else. We want you to serve it at your table for its own delicious goodness—and for no other reason. Try BONANO a week or two. We know you will like it.

BONANO is healthful, strengthening and never harmful. Let the little folks have all the BONANO they want.

A 25-cent can of BONANO makes 75 cups of the best hot drink you ever tasted. For sale by

JOHNSTOWN

Johnstown, Nov. 21.—John Morton discovered Sunday morning on going to the barn during the night the straw stack had blown over and smothered one of his fine Galloway cows.

Charles Turner of Madison was at John Clark's, last week, testing his cows for the Advance registry.

Wm. Zantow is recovering from his late illness and is now able to be about the house.

Mrs. John Morton has returned from a pleasant trip to England and her health is much improved. A cousin accompanied her home.

Mrs. Wayne Wilbur and daughter, Florence, attended the musical recital at Avon. They were pupils of Miss Ethel Hulce.

Thos. Rice and sister, Lena, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Winston of Evansville spent Saturday and Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Ralph Marquart, and family of Milton.

Mrs. Willie Bergeen is very ill with slight hopes of a recovery.

Dr. Brown of Janesville was a professional caller Saturday at Gus Teed's.

Mrs. Charles Miller returned to her Waukesha home this morning. Miss Fanny McCallis accompanied her home.

Will Lerch started out Sunday morning in search of the quick and soon returned with a fine wild goose.

George Crum and mother, Mrs. Mary Crum, have returned from a week's visit in Milton with her niece, Mrs. J. S. Hulce.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morton and family were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker.

Spectacles for a Bird.

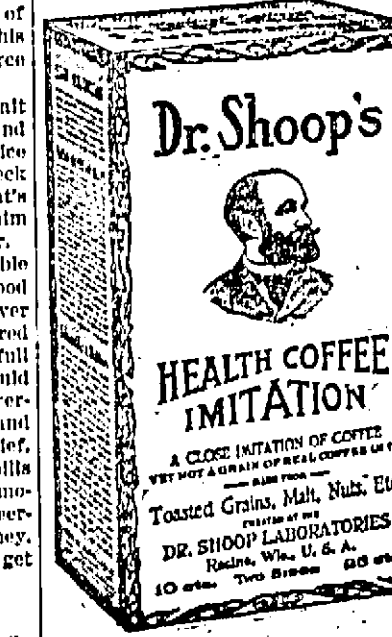

Recently a raven in the London zoological garden was operated upon for cataract, and has actually been provided with spectacles, which are fitted to the eyes by means of a kind of hood. The improvement in the sight was obvious.

Costs Only One-Third.

You save two-thirds the cost of common Coffee, and better yet, you secure the health of your entire family when you serve Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee at meal time. One 25-cent package, a full pound and a half will give you exactly 10 cups.

And the amount the golden amber colored, wholesome, healthful satisfaction will give you is far better than even your favorite brand of real Coffee. This Health Coffee has been a single grain of real Coffee in it. And here is your principal gain. The poisonous caffeine of common Coffee is avoided. The purest coffee, malt, nut, etc., of Health Coffee, will bring you health and vigor and renewed strength for its elements are food-like and positively helpful.

Health Coffee is "made in a minute." No 20-minute tedious boiling is at all necessary. Try Health Coffee once and send Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. for his free booklet—Coffee Dangers!

YOUR FAMILY!

Almost every man with a family has an intense desire to own a farm. He wants a place where his children can grow up strong and vigorous. He wants to be home near them during the day. And he wants to know that he is building a bank account for them in later years. Isn't that your case?

Right here in the very heart of Wisconsin is a mighty tract of half a million acres now thrown on the market at $8 to $20 an acre. Near by land with the same soil and climate is selling for $100 to $150 an acre. And this land must increase to those amounts soon.

Ten Years to Pay
You can own one of these splendid farms by paying one-third down and the remainder within ten years. But while you are paying, the crops will be growing and values increasing.

One man bought some of the $15 land, and after clearing and cultivating it he sold out for $50 an acre and reinvested the profits in more land. He is already a man of wealth and power.

You can buy an eighty-acre farm for $400 by selecting good $15-an-acre land and paying $5 an acre in cash. Figure the profits when you have got it cleared and under full cultivation.

Write for Free Book
We cannot hope to explain all about this land in an ad of this size, but we do ask that you send for our booklet—it's FREE.

It tells you about the soil, climate, roads, schools, churches, telephones, and the kinds of crops raised, with their average prices. Send for the book today—it costs nothing but a postal or letter.
